The school helps students develop discipline, confidence, and good values. We are happy with the extracurricular activities and opportunities given to the children to explore their talents and improve the skills. The weekly review emails are very useful for parents to understand their children's academic progress, activities, and overall development. They help us stay informed about our children's performance and understand where they need more support and encouragement. We appreciate the school's efforts to keep parents updated regularly. Sincerely appreciate the management and teachers for their continuous support and guidance in building a bright future for our children.

Thank you for sharing Sai Dhakshesh's weekly review and for the continuous guidance and encouragement extended to him.

We are happy to see the positive progress he is making in attentiveness, responsibility and completion of his work. We have also noted the areas requiring further improvement, particularly writing speed, handwriting, time management, attendance and regular revision, and we will continue to support him from our side as well.

We sincerely appreciate the collective efforts of the teachers, Principal and school management in closely monitoring each child's progress and keeping parents regularly informed. Such consistent feedback helps us work together towards Sai's academic and overall development.

Thank you once again for your continued support and guidance.

Warm regards,

Respected Mam,

I would like to take this opportunity to express my heartfelt appreciation and gratitude to the entire Hindustan team for the wonderful opportunities provided to my daughter during this term, from June to September.

It has been truly encouraging to see her actively participate in various school events and get opportunities to showcase and explore her talents. Most importantly, she is extremely happy and feels very comfortable and confident in the school.

I am thankful to the teachers, and the entire team for the time, effort, care, and investment they have put into nurturing my child. The school's commitment to enriching students through opportunities across different fields is truly commendable.

Thank you for creating such a positive, encouraging, and enriching environment for our children. We are very grateful to be a part of the Hindustan family.

Warm regards

Johannah
